Capstone Reflection

During this process in the Team Project we got to work together and collaborate while being at home during most of our project and class time. My team was Group 5 and our team project was Praclara Performing Arts. The team project Manager, Shane Johnson, assigned each person a section to do for the website. My individual role was to add content that needed to be included and remove contents that didn't need to be included in the website. The overall point of the project redesign was to improve the existing layout and design of the website for a better experience that was provided by our Project Sponsor.

While working on this project I did have some issues dealing with the program that the group used. We used one of the Wordpress websites that I was not familiar with because it was something new for me. I had to make a new account and make new logins because my account kept locking me out. I also had to use a plugin Wordpress that one of my team members recommended me to do. Throughout all stages of this project, we had to work together to accomplish our goals.

We did this by fostering an atmosphere that was open to communication, critiques, and ideas. We communicated by Video-chatting and texting about what has been accomplished, what needs work, what is next on the agenda, and Openly shared ideas and concepts for critique and approval by the group. I learned how important it is to know your clients and information about Praeclara Performing Arts.
